SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

6.1 Superintendent's Report

Superintendent Gill provided an update on the Return to Learn Plan. She thanked the Department of Teaching and Learning for the time their staff spent developing the plan. She thanked the teacher-leaders from each content area and the various grade levels that worked tirelessly, also, to develop the plan. She indicated that the plan provides two strands to address both a hybrid learning model option and the remote learning model option. Each of these is required by the Illinois State Board of Education.

Superintendent Gill reported that CANVAS learning management system will allow students and teachers a singular platform into which classroom content, schedules and other tools for distance learning can be organized. Additionally, the District has organized the first District 186 professional development conference to help teachers and staff obtain the knowledge that will be needed for distance learning.

Superintendent Gill then shared a Powerpoint presentation. Members of the Board of Education were provided with this presentation. Copies are available for public viewing on the District's website. Superintendent Gill reported that the traditional curriculum and texts, e-binders, Canvas readers and writer's notebooks, social emotional learning lessons, Study Island and Exact Path, Edmentum Courseware, Zoom, Seesaw, Overdrive Digital Library/RAZ Kids, Newsela, Brain Pop, Padlet, Screencast-o-matic, and other specific sites will all be housed within Canvas. The seven days of professional development available through the District provided conference is designed to assist teachers with obtaining the knowledge needed to navigate these tools.

With respect to Family and Community Engagement, schools will host virtual meet the teacher events at multiple times throughout the day to accommodate a variety of family and student schedules in small groups to provide the individual attention that families and students may need. Additionally, the middle schools will host virtual 6th grade orientations and the high schools will host virtual freshman forward programs for incoming freshmen. Virtual home visits will be conducted by the Early Learning Pre-K program. A parent support line and library of videos to support parents and students with remote learning will be available on the District's main web page. Lastly, communication will be centralized through the Canvas Learning Management System. Remind and Class Dojo will still be utilized but all communication will be available through Canvas. .

Superintendent Gill reported that students are asked to log in on August 31 for important information about Returning to Learn. The District will be following IHSA and IESA Return to Play Guidelines. Schools will continue to offer extracurricular activities. The District will provide Social Emotional Learning opportunities to check-in on the well being of students.

Breakfast and lunch will be distributed at twenty-four school sites from 7:00 a.m. - 9:00 a.m. Monday through Friday. Superintendent Gill further reported that families may pick up food at any of the school sites for students currently enrolled in District 186. She indicated that food will not be provided at Douglas, Dubois, Butler, Lee, Wilcox, ELC, Laketown, Lincoln and Lawrence. Families will have access to food in the areas around those schools though. The remaining schools will provide drive up meal services. Students or families will be required to provide the student's individual school code number.

Superintendent Gill then provided information on how students will learn. She reported that both synchronous and asynchronous learning will be provided. She provided definitions for both types of learning, reporting that synchronous learning includes live simultaneous instruction held at a specific time during the day on virtual platforms, including Canvas, Zoom, or Google Classroom. Students will engage with their teachers in live conversations and activities. These will be in whole classroom groups, as well as in small groups. The asynchronous learning time refers to teaching and learning that is not at the same time or in the same place. During asynchronous learning, students may watch a recorded video of instruction and complete assignments based on that instruction. Asynchronous learning will not include live interactive instruction, however, teachers may be available for student check-in during this time.

Superintendent Gill provided information on the daily schedule for elementary schools, middle schools and high schools. Elementary students will have five (5) clock hours of instructions per day per ISBE guidance. At least 2.5 of those hours will be in person, synchronous learning. Attendance will be taken during these hours and students will be required to log on to their Canvas and Zoom Classroom accounts. The instructional hours will be based on the student's school's regular operational hours. Middle and high school students must also have five (5) clock hours of daily instruction per ISBE guidance. Students will have direct instruction via Zoom following an A/B schedule with two (2) direct instruction days and three(3) independent days. Superintendent Gill reported that all grade levels will have remote learning expectations, which include expectations for grades, homework, attendance and behavior. Students will be expected to be actively engaged in their learning, attend classes via Zoom, and participate through questions and answer type engagement.

With respect to the daily schedule for Pre-K students, Superintendent Gill reported that students will be provided with 2.5 hours of remote learning, four (4) days per week. She indicated that Mondays, as with the other grade levels, are reserved for independent learning. Full day classrooms at the Pre-K level will be one (1) hour shorter once a hybrid model is opened. Enrollment figures and social distancing requirements will determine if classes at the Pre-K level are four days per week or something different for the Pre-K level learners. Pre-K remote learning expectations will utilize Teaching Strategies Creative Curriculum Cloud to support teaching centered around the Illinois Early Learning and Development Standards. Teachers will use the Early Learning Scale/Assessment, Evaluation and Programming System to support student learning. iPads will be provided to families choosing remote learning, if needed, and will also be available to students that choose in person learning. A one to one (1:1) environment is in place to support Pre-K learners.

Superintendent Gill then overviewed attendance expectations for elementary, middle and high schools, as well as the alternative programs. Elementary learners will begin their day at the same time their school typically starts. Attendance will be taken by logging on to the Canvas platform and then clicking through to their individual Zoom session. Attendance will be taken within 30 minutes of the start of the school day, with teachers inputting attendance into the District's information system. Students that are not logged in will be considered absent for the day. If a student logs in later in the day, they will be issued a tardy. Families are instructed to call the school, as they would have in past years, if a student is unable to attend. Students that show a pattern of tardiness or absence will be contacted by teachers or school leaders in an effort to support the student and family. Pre-K will have daily check-ins with students and families enrolled in morning, afternoon and full day classes.

At the middle, high and alternative school level, attendance will be taken during each synchronous class period throughout the school day. Students will log into Canvas to log into their courses for the day. They will follow the A/B alternative day schedule for their synchronous learning. Similarly to the families of elementary students, families of high school students can expect to be contacted by teachers or school leaders if a student is absent, tardy or regularly unengaged in distance learning. The school will work with students and families to provide the support needed during these challenging times. Families of middle, high and alternative learners are also asked to contact the school directly if a student will be absent or tardy, as they would during any other school year.

Next, Superintendent Gill provided information on technology device pickup. She reported that Pre-K through third grade students will receive iPads. Fourth and fifth grade students will receive either an iPad or Chromebook and sixth through twelfth grade students will receive a Chromebook to facilitate learning. The device distribution is scheduled to begin on August 21, 2020. Families are asked to visit their student's individual school website for the specific distribution schedule and watch for other communication. Families in need of a T-Mobile hotspot will be able to pick those up beginning August 28 from a central district location that will be announced in the coming days. Families are asked to watch for additional information about the hotspot distribution, if in need of that support.

Superintendent Gill then asked for the assistance of parents to support the remote learning expectations for their students. She requested that parents help their student find a dedicated space for remote learning within their home. She encouraged parents in need of a hotspot to pick one up if connectivity is an issue. She reported that breakfast and lunch are available from 7:00 a.m. to 9:00 a.m. Monday through Friday so meals can be readily available for students during the breaks provided throughout the day. Lastly, she asked parents to please help their students with the login process in a timely manner to avoid any unnecessary tardies or absences. Superintendent Gill then discussed volunteer opportunities. She indicated that regular volunteers will be contacted once it is safe to volunteer in the schools. Schools will contact volunteers if there are opportunities to assist with remote learning. She asked that volunteers watch the Springfield Families Helping Families Facebook page. Possible opportunities for volunteer involvement at this time include delivering meals to families that are unable to get to a school during the regular meal schedule time.

Superintendent Gill then directed the Board members to the “Frequently Asked Questions” document provided to each of them. She indicated that the FAQ document will be posted on the District website. Shelia Boozer, Director of Teaching and Learning, reported that administration and teachers have been working on the plan since the end of May to ensure teachers and students have all of the tools needed to teach and learn during remote learning. She thanked the Board of their trust and feedback during the development process.

Mr. Mares asked if students that are not engaged in electronic learning will be offered an opportunity, like occurred in the spring, to participate through paper packets. Superintendent Gill reported that each school has a team in place to help support students and families and ensure remote learning is possible for every student. She indicated that the supports that are in place for the fall have evolved over the supports that were in place in the spring. These supports will allow all students to engage in remote learning. Mr. McFarland reported that expanded EBT/Food Stamp benefits have been extended through the end of August. He encouraged families that may qualify for those benefits to apply for through their school’s lunch program. Mr. Miller asked if families that are unable to make it to schools for meal services have meals delivered to their home. Superintendent Gill reported that the support for that will look a little different this year but families will be provided with this type of support, if needed. A volunteer network is in place to help support meal delivery. Mr. Miller asked if a student needs to pick up their meals from their school of attendance. Superintendent Gill reported that meals can be picked up by any District 185 student from any of the school sites offering meals. Students/Families do not need to go to their school of attendance to pick up their meals. Mr. Miller then asked if hotspots are the same hotspots issued in the spring to families. Superintendent Gill reported that they are not the same hotspots. These hotspots are from T-Mobile, which provided the District with about a 50% savings over the cost of the data for the hotspots used in the spring. She reported that the current hotspots are also newer than the hotspots used in the spring. Mr. Miller asked if the hotspots will be issued on a first come, first served basis. Superintendent Gill reported that families were asked during the registration process of the need for a hotspot. Based on those responses, an initial order of hotspots was made, along with an extra supply. All families in need of a hotspot will be provided with one. There was then some discussion regarding Comcast’s free internet. Superintendent Gill encouraged families to contact Comcast directly with any questions related to the services they provide. Ms. Johnson asked how the number of available meals will be determined for each meal site. Superintendent Gill reported that the Food Service office has a plan in place that will allow for the transfer of food between sites if one site should run low. She indicated that it is likely that the first few weeks of the school year extra meals will be prepared and then based on the data that arises from the distributions during those first few weeks, a plan with more precise numbers of meals will be created to guide the distributions at each site. Mr. Miller then reported that his children that attend Ball Charter and started school this week, had started off well after some small connectivity issues.

Lisa Ward, parent, then addressed the Board regarding the remote learning plan and return to school.

Superintendent Gill reported that State laws have not changed with respect to the October 1st deadline for families to provide proof of the required physicals and immunizations.
